FROM THE DESK OF Keith Henderson, CEO

LOOKING FORWARD TO 2023

2022 has been an exceptional year for the Latin Metals team. A lot has been achieved to move our Prospect Generator model forward, and we are all looking forward to 2023.

We are continually working to advance our projects and secure quality partners. We secured partners for our Argentina projects in 2022, and partner-funded drilling is expected to be underway by Q2. In 2023 we will focus on finding the right partners for our Lacsha and Auquis copper projects, both of which have delivered great results all year.

The coming year will also see us looking for additional project acquisitions with a focus on copper exploration. As we plan to find partners to fund projects, it is critical that we continue to make quality acquisitions and advance new projects.

Best Wishes - Keith & the Latin Metals Team

2022 - LOOKING BACK

2022 was a busy and successful year during which we positioned Latin Metals for an exciting 2023. Our prospect generator business model is continuing to advance, with option agreements signed with Barrick Gold and AngloGold Ashanti during the first half of the year.

Giving back, we were able to present new school furniture to the youngest locals in the village of San Miguel, and we provided 6 rolls of irrigation hose to the community of San Francisco de Sangayaico. These collaborations and the community agreements that underly them are an important part of the work that we do in Peru.
